

RF Characterization of Superconducting Samples at HZB

Summary

Based on a design originally developed at CERN, HZB has built a quadrupole resonator that permits the extensive characterization of superconducting samples to help evaluate their performance for cavity applications.

Primary author: Mr KLEINDIENST, Raphael (Helmholtz-Zentrum Berlin)

Presenter: Mr KLEINDIENST, Raphael (Helmholtz-Zentrum Berlin)