

CREMLIN CB Annual Meeting and WP2 Workshop on Internationalisation Aspects of Megascience Facilities

Lund | 29-30 June 2016

Agenda

Objectives

Internationalisation is a strategic issue in building, operating and scientifically exploiting large scale research infrastructures. Research policy frameworks are generally supporting internationalisation in order to strengthen knowledge production, excellence in research, innovation performance and national reputation. At the cornerstone of internationalisation at research infrastructures is the access of international scientific users to the facility for effectively conducting research. Such access should be defined at the facility in a transparent way providing maximum benefits to science communities and to the society. This workshop should bring together the various stakeholders from the Russian Megascience research facilities and their European partners, from scientific communities, industry and from funding agencies to discuss these relevant matters, share valuable experiences and provide best practice guidelines.
