- > All other days: lectures and tutorials on latest developments
- > During the lectures: if you have questions, please type them into the chat window, and the moderator will ask the lecturer if it fits (maybe you will even receive comments from your colleagues...)
- > Other communication channels: join Mattermost!
 - For general questions, use the town square
 - Additional channels for technical question are defined for each group

Additional info

> Coffee breaks: try to meet and discuss with different people: Stay in the main room, and I will send you to breakout rooms with a small number of participants; I would like to ask you to discuss the following questions:

- What is the main take-away message from this lecture for you?
- What is the most important thing that you learnt today?
- If you already have a ML project: tell your colleagues what you are doing.

> Social event?

- Are you interested in a social event on Friday evening? – Some options:
 - Play online games together
 - Just grab your favorite drink and hang out with some of your school fellows via Zoom
 - Other suggestions???
- If you are interested in such an event, please fill your preference here:
