Contribution ID: 9   Type: not specified

Triggers

Wednesday 11 October 2023 10:45 (2 hours)

The trigger exercise will introduce students to calculating trigger efficiencies, using two different methods. Figuring out the trigger efficiency is a necessary step in most analyses, so this exercise will be broadly applicable to every student, regardless of their physics topic. This exercise will make use of CMSSW, nanoAOD, and SWAN.

Session Classification: DPG exercises