

Feedback from Antonio Rago (SDU) on behalf of Openlat:

- 1) I was representing Openlat, a collaboration formed around the open science principles, that sees ILDG as a crucial tool for the community
- 2) We managed to upload and retrieve configurations
- 3) The material from the hand on was covering every single aspect of the tutorial, the suggested possible improvement was to make it more navigable and searchable through a single point of access.
- 4) The markup procedure is now pretty clear, as a suggestion it would be great to have a best practice guide (very much along what you presented) and a sort of help desk for markup
- 5) About the website, it would be great to state clearly the points of contact for the different queries and the various channels of communication
