Welcome to Berlin!

Welcome to Berlin!

It's really nice! ... we hope we get to show it ... some day.

Welcome to the virtual
ZTF Spring 2020 partnership meeting

- Three live half days (March 23-25) divided into six sessions (and three coffee breaks).
- Full schedule at: https://indico.desy.de/indico/event/23995/
- Using Zoom for live presentations: https://zoom.us/j/4318500560
- Use the `raise hand` functionality in Zoom for questions or comments. A moderator will lead the discussion.
- Slides uploaded to: http://www.oir.caltech.edu/twiki_ptf/bin/view/ZTF/ZTFCollaborationMeetingMar2020
- Limited amount of "live" time - go through slides in advance and post questions to the #berlin2020 channel in the `ZTF general` slack.
- Bandwidth might (will) be an issue. Improves meeting quality to see video feed, but might be impossible. (Another reason to use slack for communication.)

Group photo

We still want to create a collaboration "group" photo, or collage.

It would be great if everyone could make a "selfie" or take a photo of the scene from which you are connecting to the meeting, and upload this to the channel #berlin2020_photos at some point during the meeting.

Thanks for a great Berlin meeting!

See you somewhere, sometime...

ZTF Partnership Spring 2023 Meeting

- What should we discuss?

- ZTF legacy!

- What is that?

- Hmm... something about data, ... and time?

ZTF Partnership Spring 2023 Meeting

ZTF legacy I:

Could be we will create ZTF legacy through finding ____ KNe O4 GW counterparts!

Very timely, discussion Wed afternoon.

____ = dozens/several/one/half

ZTF Partnership Spring 2023 Meeting

ZTF legacy II:

ZTF datasets and results that will be discussed for a long time.
- What data is needed?
- How should this be accessed and understood?
- Have we done enough legacy studies?
- New era: what have we learned about how to do science?

Discussion Thu afternoon (Fri morning).

ZTF legacy III:

Most of our joint intellectual work has been "spent" designing, testing and optimizing analysis tools. Are these enough known, do we duplicate efforts or could we make quick progress through reuse?

"Tools and methods" talks distributed throughout the three days. Hopefully you can find something new and useful, if nothing else we can acknowledge the huge effort!
