

Applying Information Field Theory for Background Removal in Crystalline Diffraction Patterns – EvalSpek-ML project

Applying Information Field Theory for Background Removal in Crystalline Diffraction Patterns – EvalSpek-ML project

- Numerical information field theory: Applying Bayesian inference and probabilistic models to well-behaved signal at low and high dimensional spaces.
- Ensures reproducibility of results and provides uncertainty estimates.

