Open Access agreements

- The State and University Library, the University of Hamburg and the Central Medical Library (University Medical Center) have concluded a large number of agreements and memberships
- Scientists from the University of Hamburg can thus publish free of charge or at a discount in open access
- We provide information about all agreements concluded on our website

Open Access veröffentlichen

Wenn Sie Ihre Forschungsergebnisse im Open Access (OA) veröffentlichen wollen, werden üblicherweise Publikationsgebühren, sogenannte Article Processing Charges (APC), verlangt. Dies gilt, wenn Sie in einer reinen Open-Access-Zeitschrift (OA-Zeitschrift) publizieren.

Es gilt aber auch, wenn Sie in einer konventionellen Subskriptionszeitschrift veröffentlichen und der Verlag Ihnen die Möglichkeit einräumt, Ihren Artikel in dieser Zeitschrift OA zu stellen. Man spricht dann von Hybrid-Zeitschriften:

- OA-Zeitschrift: Zeitschrift, in der aufgrund der Politik des Herausgebers alle Artikel im Open Access veröffentlicht werden. Der Zugriff ist allgemein frei.
- Hybrid-Zeitschrift: Zeitschrift, deren Artikel in der Regel nicht im Open Access stehen. AutorInnen und Autoren können jedoch entscheiden, ihren Artikel gegen eine zusätzliche Gebühr im Open Access zu veröffentlichen. Nur dieser ist dann allgemein frei.

Open Access agreements

Open Access models

- Gold: Publications in pure open access journals, all articles in these journals are open access
- Hybrid: The articles in these journals are generally not open access, but authors can decide to publish their article in open access for an additional fee. Then only this article is open access.
- Diamond Open Access: Publications are free of charge for readers and authors alike.

SCOAP³

Sponsoring Consortium for Open Access Publishing in Particle Physics

- make scientific publications in high-energy physics available in open access
- Gold open access in peer-reviewed high-quality journals
- Funding is provided by academic institutions and libraries
 - The university's Department of Physics contributes a partial amount to SCOAP³
- For scientists in the field of High Energy Physics (HEP), all publication fees for their publications in the participating journals are thus waived for members of the University of Hamburg.

SCOAP³

- Acta Physica Polonica B (Jagiellonen-Universität, Krakau) *
- Advances in High Energy Physics (Wiley)
- Chinese Physics C (IoP) *
- European Physical Journal C (SpringerNature)
- Journal of High Energy Physics (SpringerNature)
- Nuclear Physics B (Elsevier)
- Physical Review C / PRC (APS) *
- Physical Review D / PRD (APS) *
- Physical Review Letters / PRL (APS) *
- Physics Letters B (Elsevier)
- Progress of Theoretical and Experimental Physics / PTEP (OUP) *

(The journals marked with * only contain a proportion of articles from the HEP category. The fees will only be covered by SCOAP³ if the article was placed in the main category “HEP” in arXiv before the submission).

IOP Publishing

- unlimited and cost-free publishing in 57 hybrid journals and 24 gold open access journals
 - including
 - Classical and Quantum Gravity
 - Journal of Cosmology and Astroparticle Physics
 - Journal of Instrumentation
 - Reports on Progress in Physics
- All corresponding authors of the University of Hamburg are eligible
- Types primary research article (incl. research papers, special issue articles, letters und review articles)

A guide to submitting under a transformative agreement

Home > A guide to submitting under a transformative agreement

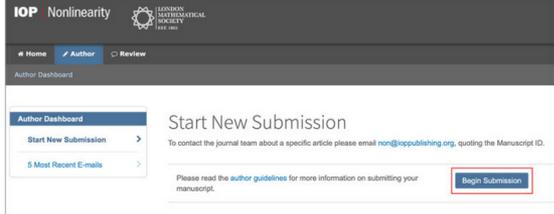

To see if your institution is covered by a transformative agreement, or to check compliance with funder requirements, you can use the IOPP Journal Finder tool.

Go to IOPP Journal Finder

Alternatively, visit 'Transformative and institutional open access agreements' and select the relevant country to find the agreement you may be covered by. Each agreement page lists all of the member institutions and eligible journals.

When you are ready to start your submission, follow steps 1-4 on our submission system; ScholarOne.

Note: a small number of eligible journals do not use the ScholarOne submission system.

The screenshot shows the 'Author Dashboard' for 'IOP Nonlinearity'. The dashboard includes a navigation menu with 'Home', 'Author', and 'Review'. Below the navigation, there are two main sections: 'Author Dashboard' and 'Start New Submission'. The 'Start New Submission' section contains a 'Start New Submission' button, a link to '5 Most Recent E-mails', and a 'Begin Submission' button. A note below the buttons states: 'To contact the journal team about a specific article please email non@ioppublishing.org, quoting the Manuscript ID. Please read the author guidelines for more information on submitting your manuscript.'

Project DEAL

The members of the University of Hamburg have the opportunity to publish in the participating journals of Wiley, Elsevier and Springer Nature in gold and hybrid open access.

Workflow:

1. Submit your article to the publishing portal and select “Universität Hamburg”.
2. You will receive a notification that your institution is participating in the DEAL agreement.
3. Now you can make your article Open Access free of charge.
4. We confirm your affiliation with the University of Hamburg
5. Your publication will be published under a Creative Commons license.

Conditions:

The Corresponding Author is affiliated with University of Hamburg

The University of Hamburg is stated as your affiliation in the paper
