

Project work

Wednesday 10 October 2012 13:30 (4h 30m)

Students are grouped into development teams that can choose from a small pool of software projects related to scientific questions. Each group will be assigned to a tutor to guide their activities and to help incorporate the skills acquired during course into their software development.