

Physics in Intense Fields Workshop 2013

July 9-11th DESY, Hamburg

Bulletin 2, 27 June 2013

Dear All,

A few items of note for the upcoming PIF2013 workshop.

Timetable: There has been some shuffling of the timetable affecting those in the middle two sessions of the final day 11th of July. Hopefully the timetable is now in its final form. Please have another look at your time slot to make sure of the starting time and length of your talk. Please also upload your talks in a timely fashion (at least by the session before), and check that you are able to add the material yourself (you need an indico account).

Posters: There is no official poster session, however if people would still like to display something there will be a few poster boards available. If you will bring material for display (I know of at least one poster), please email me (anthony.hartin@desy.de) detailing the size so we can have enough space available

Registration: Registration closes this weekend. We will be tallying up numbers for the Reception and Dinner, as well as coffee breaks, to pass to the caterer. It will be assumed that those who have not yet paid their registration fees will do so at the workshop. Please make sure that your registration is as you require it.

DESY participants: participation for DESY people at DESY workshops is subject to a special rate. Please bring your fee (email me if you don't know what it is) to the workshop Registration session on Tuesday 9th July.

We look forward to seeing you all at DESY in a couple of weeks,

On behalf of the organising committee,

Anthony Hartin
